What do you want to be when you grow up?

Perhaps you have always known what you want to do, and you are on a clear-cut path to your goals and beyond. Or maybe you want to keep your options open for now, and just keep doing what you love while seizing the opportunities that present themselves. There is still plenty of time to decide!

Here at Pamoja, we work with schools around the world to give students like you the head start you need to achieve your goals – even if you are not sure what they look like yet.

Are you about to start...

The International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma or Career-related Programme?

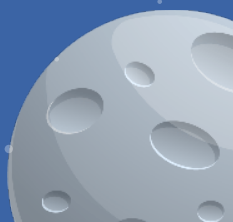

Whether you have got your sights set on university or you are diving into the world of work straight after leaving school, ensure you are ready to succeed. Your education is key to your future, and you should not have to compromise. Pamoja Online Courses give you the chance to study subjects that your school does not offer by taking them online.

Learning online is a great opportunity to study a subject you are passionate about, all while enhancing your essential skills. you will gain practical experience of collaborative tools and digital technologies that promote self-direction, critical thinking and creativity – all skills that are highly desired by universities and employers around the world.

Bethany, Former Pamoja Student

“Learning online would give me the independence I longed for that no classroom could offer. I was excited to start my Pamoja journey because I would be studying the subject I want to pursue in the future, and I would be able to work at my own pace without distractions or having to slow down for my peers.”

What are the IB Diploma and Career-related Programmes?

The Diploma Programme (DP) is made up of six subject groups and the DP core, comprising of Theory of Knowledge (TOK), creativity, activity, service (CAS) and the Extended Essay. The IB DP is recognised and respected by the world's leading universities.

Career-related Programme (CP) students undertake a minimum of two IB DP courses, a core consisting of four components and a career-related study. For CP students, DP courses provide the theoretical underpinning and academic rigour of the programme; the career-related study further supports the programme's academic strength and provides practical, real-world approaches to learning; and the CP core helps them to develop skills and competencies required for lifelong learning.

Get a Head Start for University

Online learning is a fantastic way to gain digital and educational skills that will make you shine – not just on your university applications, but throughout your chosen course of study.

But don't just take our word for it.

According to research carried out by the University of London's Institute of Education with students using Pamoja courses:

- 100% of participants said that, prior to university, they had gained experience in a range of online learning tools that they are now using as part of their university study.
- Many indicated that the pre-university experience of online learning provided 'rehearsal space', allowing them to develop their approaches to study, including note-taking, information searching, and communicating online (with peers and teachers) before starting university – where these skills are necessary.

Javier, Former Pamoja Student

"I not only received fantastic grades, I also realised that by doing it, I had covered most of the content that I was required to undertake in the first year of my Dual Honours Political Science and Law degree."

Benefits of Online Learning

Gain practical experience of collaborative tools and digital technologies

Develop essential skills, e.g. creativity, critical thinking, time management and more

Become an independent, self-directed learner

Strengthen intercultural awareness

Raghav, Former Pamoja Student

"I recently completed my university applications and the experience of learning online gave me a huge advantage; both in terms of skill set and the format itself. It was the one thing that I wrote about for every application because it made me stand out. It definitely helped me to get in to most of the universities I applied for and it's also been a fantastic experience all round."

Case Study

“Pamoja Online Courses has strengthened my abilities to learn flexibly, collaboratively and creatively” Amelia, Former Pamoja student

Amelia is an IB graduate who moved to Gjøvik videregående Skole in Norway from Germany. She studied Business Management HL and French ab initio with Pamoja Online Courses.

When I unexpectedly moved from my international school in Germany to a small Norwegian high school in Norway, I realised that Pamoja would be the only way I could study some of the subjects I originally wanted to study in the IB Diploma Programme.

Each course is structured in a way that you have to actively take part in your learning. I have been able to dive into topics in a way that is starkly different than a traditional classroom. This has resulted in the development of both my research and self-directed learning skills.

The biggest challenge for me was managing my time effectively. I felt like I struggled to adjust to the fact that my classroom was not a traditional classroom; rather, it was a classroom which I carried around with me every day and could access from anywhere and at any time. Once I realised this, my learning improved greatly because I could structure my day in a way which suited my school timetable best. This resulted in less stress because I did not feel the pressure to understand something immediately.

The level of student collaboration and the international nature of tasks in both of my courses have enabled me to feel connected on a global scale. The collaborative environment Pamoja presents has been an amazing experience because it has allowed me to meet people from all over the world from places such as Indonesia, USA, Austria, and even some others living in Norway. Staying connected amidst a global pandemic has definitely proven to be a challenge, yet, in my Pamoja courses, it felt like I was part of a wider, international community.

So far, I have seen tremendous self-growth in the sense that I have learnt important skills relating to time-management and organisation. These skills will help me in other IB courses as well as in my university years and beyond. The Pamoja courses have presented me with the opportunity to connect real life experiences and knowledge with the required coursework. Rather than viewing learning as a chore, it is now something which I look forward to each week.
